

TikTok Marketing

Everything You Need to Know to Market Your Business on TikTok

Course Description

With 1.1 billion users globally and 80% of Singapore's users under 33, TikTok is a platform you can't ignore.

Designed to help you navigate this fast growing social media channel, our 2-day TikTok Marketing Course covers all the essentials you need.

Day 1 kicks off with understanding TikTok's algorithms, features, and tools, followed by in-depth sessions on audience analytics and crafting marketing funnel strategies. We cap off the day by guiding you through TikTok content strategies, including how to develop a content calendar.

Day 2 is all about hands-on content creation and analysis. We start with scripting and storyboarding, teaching you the nuts and bolts of creating compelling videos. You'll be provided with a mobile phone tripod and gain hands-on experience in video shooting and in-app production tools. You'll also dive into video editing, utilising TikTok and CapCut, and finish the day with an exploration of TikTok analytics and advertising options.

The workshop incorporates case studies, role-playing scenarios, and real-time analytics to help you design an audience-focused TikTok marketing strategy. We will assess your performance through group and individual exercises, and a final project, where you'll present a TikTok video embodying what you've learned.

Ready to carve out your space in Singapore's youthful TikTok scene? Join our workshop to start building your TikTok marketing expertise.
